On 11th and 12th January, 2014, the leading program students joined the Leading Forum 2013 “Next Visionary” in Osaka, organized by Osaka University and Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science and Technology (MEXT). In this forum, the participants had to make a proposal to solve the present problem according to the topics given beforehand. We prepared a presentation of “English in the globalization“ under a topic “Japan and the Globe, Now and Future”. The company and government persons joined the forum as judges for students presentation from the famous enterprizes, such as Panasonic, Rakuten and Elsevia Japan. We were impressed for other graduate school students’ activity and presentation although our team could reach to final presentation. More than forty of leading programs joined the forum and we could be friendly with the other program students and exchanged the information about each university program.

We really thank the all staffs of LP program of Nagasaki University for giving an opportunity of joining the wonderful forum. We also hope that many students will visit the forum or meeting if they have a chance next time. It will widen our knowledge and interest.
